

THE GRAVESTONES IN THE NEW SECTION (D) OF THE CHURCHYARD BETWEEN THE MAIN PATHWAY AND THE SOUTH BOUNDARY WALL

This section of the churchyard is the most recent. It is an extension to the land surrounding the church which having been used for burials for over 800 years, was considered to be overcrowded. A strip of land 36 feet wide, south of the existing churchyard, was donated to the church by Charles Alfred Howard, Colonel in His Majesty's Army, D.S.O, on the June 20th 1924 and consecrated by Bertram, Bishop of Norwich, to be part of the churchyard and consecrated ground on March 10th 1925. The Rev. H.E.Thursby was rector at that time.

The graves in this section therefore are all post 1924. The oldest are at the western end near the lych gate and all the headstones in this section face eastwards. They are mainly made of granite, which wears very well, or of sandstone which wears less well and is a host to lichen and moss growth which in time can obliterate the inscriptions.

There are however some twentieth century graves elsewhere in the churchyard as well as some memorial tablets to commemorate parishioners who have been cremated.

There is an old plan of this section of the churchyard dating from the mid twentieth century and gradually updated showing the burial plots and the names and dates of those buried. Many of these plots now show no indication of any memorial stones or kerbs. The details of the existing memorial stones is given below in black. The information in red shows information from the old plan (supplemented by details from the burial register of the church) for those plots where there is now no stone or other memorial.

DESCRIPTION AND INSCRIPTIONS OF THE MEMORIALS IN SECTION E IN AUGUST 2013

The reference numbers beginning with D refer to the plan drawn in 2013 and the number references from 656 onward appear to refer to the parish burial records.
